

The Australian Consortium for 'In-Country' Indonesian Studies

Development Studies Professional Practicum in Indonesia

$3,000
Scholarships
Available

supported by:

Australian Government

NEW COLOMBO PLAN

Connect to Australia's future - study in the region

ACICIS
Study Indonesia

Undertake a six week internship with a community development organisation in Indonesia

Study in Indonesia and gain credit towards your degree

This six-week innovative 'hands-on' summer program in Indonesia is designed for students of development studies and allows participants to gain valuable experience working in the field of international development.

Students will be given the unique opportunity to learn about development issues in a country that, with tens of millions of disadvantaged people and large endowments of natural resources, is central to global efforts to reduce poverty and promote sustainable development. Exposure to the Indonesian language and culture enriches the overall experience.

The internship enables students to engage with community development issues in Indonesia while also gaining important practical skills.

What is involved?

- ◆ 2 weeks of intensive Indonesian language classes;
- ◆ 2 weeks of English language lectures by experts on Indonesian development issues; and
- ◆ A 4-week supervised internship to give students an English-speaking 'headquarters experience', with local and international NGOs.

What will you get out of it?

- ◆ Experience in development in a professional context and a chance to establish networks in Indonesia;
- ◆ A detailed professional evaluation (suitable for your CV/job reference);
- ◆ Academic credit towards your degree (by negotiation with your university).

Applications close 1 July Apply at www.acicis.edu.au

The Australian Consortium for In-Country Indonesian Studies known as ACICIS (pronounced "ah-chee-chis" as an Indonesian would) has been opening doors to tertiary institutions throughout Indonesia since 1994, offering a range of study options and in-country support to help students gain invaluable first-hand experience of one of the richest and most diverse countries in the world.

ACICIS gratefully acknowledges the current and historical contributions made to the consortium's growth and development - in the form of both financial and in-kind support - by Murdoch University, The University of Western Australia, the Department of Foreign Affairs and Trade (DFAT)'s Australia Indonesia Institute (AII), the Commonwealth Department of Education and Training (DET), the National Asian Languages and Studies in Schools Program (NALSSP), the Myer Foundation, the Australian Learning and Teaching Council (ALTC), and the Australian Government's New Colombo Plan.

