Creative Arts & Design Professional Practicum (CADPP)

Placing well-rounded interns within Indonesia host organisations

What is ACICIS?

The Australian Consortium for 'In-Country' Indonesian Studies (ACICIS) is the longest running provider of in-country Indonesian study programs for Australian students and the primary mechanism through which Australian students pursue study in Indonesia for academic credit.

From small beginnings as a facilitator of accredited in-country Indonesian language study, ACICIS' program offerings have grown to include semester-long and six-week professional practicum programs in a range of disciplines, including journalism, development, business, law, and international relations.

ACICIS is a consortium of twenty-five Australian member universities (including all of the Group of Eight) as well as overseas centres-of-excellence in the field of Indonesian and Southeast Asian Studies, such as SOAS at the University of London and Leiden University.

What is the CADPP?

- ◆ A six-week intensive academic and vocational study program for high-achieving upper undergraduate Australian and international students;
- ◆ Students undertake two weeks of intensive language learning and industry-led seminars on the Indonesian development and voluntary sector;
- ◆ Students then complete a four-week industry internship placement with a participating Australian or Indonesian organisation;
- ◆ Students are selected on a strictly competitive-entry basis, with evidence of excellent academic achievement, voluntary and professional experience;

- ◆ Students are eligible to receive academic credit for up to two subjects for the program towards their home degree.

- ◆ Through tailored sponsorship packages.

Sponsorship Packages

ACICIS is seeking proposals from Australian and Indonesian businesses interested in supporting the development of the CADPP through a range of sponsorship packages. Packaging arrangements may include:
