ACICIS' Law Professional Practicum (LPP)

Opening up Indonesia's legal sector to Australian university students

What is ACICIS?

The Australian Consortium for 'In-Country' Indonesian Studies (ACICIS) is a non-profit education provider of in-country Indonesian study programs for Australian university students and the primary mechanism through which Australian students pursue study in Indonesia for academic credit.

From small beginnings as a facilitator of accredited in-country Indonesian language study, ACICIS' program offerings have grown to include semester-long and six-week professional practicum programs in a range of disciplines including journalism, development, business, law, creative arts, agriculture, and international relations.

ACICIS is a consortium of twenty four Australian member universities (including all of the Group of Eight) as well as overseas centres of excellence in the field of Indonesian and Southeast Asian Studies, such as SOAS at the University of London and Leiden University.

What is the LPP?

- ◆ A six-week intensive academic and vocational study program for high-achieving upper undergraduate Australian and international law students;
- ◆ Students undertake two weeks of intensive language learning and industry-led seminars on the Indonesian legal industry;
- ◆ Students then complete a four-week industry internship placement with a participating Australian or Indonesian organisation;
- ◆ Students are selected on a strictly competitive-entry basis, with evidence of excellent academic achievement, voluntary and professional experience;
- ◆ Students are eligible to receive academic credit for the program towards their home degree.

What does the LPP offer host organisations?

Via a careful selection process, ACICIS aims to provide Host Organisations with excellent interns with prior practical experience in the legal industry. LPP students can assist your organisation with:

- ◆ Compiling desk reviews on current laws and/or political issues which may be of interest to the Host Organisation's operations in Indonesia;
- ◆ Research assistance and data collection;
- ◆ Field visits to one or more of the Host Organisation's partners
- ◆ Observing consultations between legal practitioners and their clients or stakeholders
- ◆ Drafting documents and maintaining case files.

How to participate as a Host Organisation

- ◆ By hosting one or more ACICIS LPP interns in your office; or
- ◆ Via in-kind support through the provision of speakers, networking events and/or venue support; or
- ◆ Through tailored sponsorship packages.

Sponsorship Packages

ACICIS is seeking sponsorship from businesses and organisations interested in supporting the development of the LPP through a range of sponsorship packages. Packaging arrangements may include:

- ◆ One-off or ongoing financial contributions to the ACICIS LPP program
- ◆ Scholarships and/or travel grants provided directly to LPP students

In return, ACICIS will:

- ◆ Acknowledge the support of sponsors and supporters in promotional material;
- ◆ Provide talented interns for industry placements; and
- ◆ Enable sponsors to attract talented Indonesia-literate graduates to their organisations.

For sponsorship enquiries, please contact ACICIS' Resident Director.
