GAIN AN INSIGHT INTO INDONESIAN PUBLIC HEALTH MANAGEMENT AND POLICY

Undertake a two-week public health study tour in Indonesia

About the Program

The two-week intensive study tour offers a unique balance of academic and hands-on experience in the Indonesian public health sector. The tour provides an introduction to the public health challenges currently facing Indonesia, as well as to existing government, international and community-led initiatives tasked with meeting these challenges.

This is a unique opportunity for students to hear from leading health professionals, policy-makers and community health workers, and to discuss approaches to health issues with Indonesian counterparts. The program will be facilitated by a leading academic in the field of public health who possess specialised knowledge of Indonesia.

Dates and Costs

In 2019, a tour will run in July and November-December. The cost is $3,893 for member university students, or $4,783 for non-member university students.

Tour Components

- » Introduction to Indonesian classes;
- » Seminars focused on public health in Indonesia;
- » Field trips to health care facilities;
- » Cultural activities;
- » NGO visits

Who Can Apply?

This tour is designed for public health students, as well as students from related disciplines such as Health Promotion, Epidemiology, Occupational Health and Safety, Environmental Health, Community Health, Development Studies, Health Policy, Public Policy, Nursing and Health Sciences.

Applications are due by 1 April for July tour and 25 August for November-December tour.
